have to have that letter of determination. There's...and as Senator Brashear said, they...most of them, I think, file an annual return. And they're subject to audit, review, and so on, that they are actually what they said they were in their articles of incorporation, their bylaws. It doesn't have to be a corporation. It can be organized about any which way you can. But they'll look at their bylaws and so on. So, this does exempt anyone who qualifies as a Section 501. And as I said, it can...there's all sorts of them. There's various different organizations within 501 classification. And Senator Bourne continues to harp upon the meeting we had between General File and Select File. And I don't remember...I can't even remember whose office it was in. It was not in the building here. It was in one of the lobbyist's office. And I simply walked into there that morning, I believe, and a whole group of people. They had the bill drafted as they thought would work the best to them, and so on, and we'd work things out. And I think there were a couple of changes, minor changes made to it. And it was redrafted, and that was pretty much the agreement. Now, whether there's opposition behind the glass now, I don't know. Since taking the...or, exempting the charitable organizations, I have not been approached by anyone out there saying, hey, we don't like this anymore. So I think we did our work, we kept our word between General File, Select File. We had everyone on board. Like I said, they are actually the people who drafted what was...became the bill then on Select File. So I think that was all worked out. And as to who was invited to that meeting, I'm sorry if we hurt Senator Bourne's feelings. But it was worked out between the bill sponsor and committee legal counsel, and I went over, as Chair of the committee, and a whole group of other people, and I can't even recall who they all were. But there was quite a large group of people in that room that morning. So with that, I hope people can support Senator Synowiecki's amendment. I think it accomplishes what we set out to do. And I don't have any problem with it, with my background very limited in 501 organizations. But I think it passes muster. Thank you.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Thank you, Senator Baker. Senator Friend, followed by Senator Bourne, please.
